SUMMARY SHEET

Letter to Members of the European Parliament · 22 March 2000

Overview: Letter addressed “to all Members of the European Parliament”: Mr Collorafi forwards to them the judgment of the Paris Court of Appeal of 8 March 2000 as an illustration of abuses of a dominant position and of economic dependence.

Key points

Mr Collorafi encloses the judgment of 8 March 2000 concerning him, in which he sees a “dramatic” illustration of the situation of businesses subject to abuse of a dominant position and economic dependence when the contracts in dispute are applied in bad faith. He describes the collapse caused by the abrupt termination of contractual relationships and hopes that the European Parliament will take up the matter in order to put an end to these practices.

Significance

A letter of political mobilisation: Mr Collorafi seeks to take his case into the European legislative arena, at the time of the debates on economic regulation.
